- A. This policy governs the publication of and commentary on social media by employees and/or volunteers of Graduate Students' Association of Athabasca University and its related companies ("AUGSA"). For the purposes of this policy, social media refers to mediums of online publication and commentary, including but not limited to: blogs, wiki's, social networking sites (such as Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, Flickr, Pinterest) and YouTube.

AUGSA employees and/or volunteers are free to publish or comment via social media in accordance with this policy. AUGSA employees and/or volunteers are subject to this policy to the extent they identify themselves as an AUGSA employee including but not limited indirect identification (such as a personal profile description). Incidental mentions of AUGSA as a place of employment contained on a personal blog or web post on topics unrelated to AUGSA are exempt.

Publication and commentary on social media carries similar obligations to any other kind of publication or commentary. However, social media also is more permanent than many other forms of publication or commentary. Once something is published in social media the original author loses control over further dissemination of that information.

- B. All uses of social media must follow the same ethical standards that AUGSA employees and/or volunteers must otherwise follow.
- C. AUGSA employees and/or volunteers will ensure that:
1. Social media username/login ID's do not use AUGSA's name without prior approval from the Executive Director and President.
 2. AUGSA related social media is updated regularly, kept current and remain relevant.
 3. Confidential information including but not limited to unpublished details of current projects, financial information, research, trade secrets and in camera discussions items is not shared, posted or discussed on social media.
 4. They avoid the use of pseudonyms, false screen names or posting anonymously.
 5. They respect copyright laws by crediting the appropriate source through links and proper referencing.
 6. All posts align with current AUGSA policies, the AUGSA website, and the AUGSA mission and vision.
 7. All posts are based on facts and conducted in a respectful and professional manner (including proper grammar, spelling, and avoiding social media "fights").

Policy Binder – Apr 2022

8. They do not commit AUGSA to a new action or policy that has not been agreed upon by council.
9. They clearly identify the views expressed are their personal views and opinions and do not represent the official views of AUGSA.
10. Mistakes are acknowledged and corrected quickly
11. Partners, suppliers, individual members, or customers are not obviously referenced without their prior approval.
12. Misrepresentations made about AUGSA are brought to the attention of the President and VP External

4. Administrative Policies

4.01 Password and Account Legacy Policies

Last Reviewed: April 8, 2022	Prior Revision Date: April, 2021
------------------------------	----------------------------------

- A. Purpose: The purpose of this policy is to facilitate the continuation of AUGSA's various online accounts from one Council to the next, as well as to facilitate a smooth transition in the event of volunteer and/or staff turnover.
- B. Account Legacy: Certain AUGSA accounts (such as email accounts) and property (such as laptop computers) are intended to be used by future executives, council members, volunteers and employees. As such, the login information for these accounts and property (i.e., user names and passwords) must be passed on to the Executive Director at the time that a person leaves his or her position. The Executive Director will then provide the incoming person with this information (which he or she may then change, so that the Executive Director cannot unduly access these accounts).
- C. In the event that the Executive Director is leaving his or her position, he or she will provide the information in question to the President, to be passed on to the incoming Executive Director. Login information that must be passed on upon resignation or termination from a position includes, but is not necessarily limited to:
- Your @augsa.com email password;
 - The password to your computer (if the computer is the property of AUGSA);
 - Any encryption keys used on official documents that you may have created or controlled (and a copy of the software used to encrypt the documents, if requested);
 - The password to any and all official AUGSA social media accounts (such as the official @AUGSA Twitter account); and
 - Administrator privileges and/or passwords for any forums, websites, or social media groups that you may have created on behalf of AUGSA.
- D. Password Storage: Such information as discussed in the previous section of this policy must also be recorded in a fashion that will be recoverable in the event that you are incapacitated, injured, or otherwise rendered unable to carry out your responsibilities to AUGSA, but which will remain secure unless such an incident occurs.

E. Social Media Accounts: The use of social media relating to AUGSA is governed by the AUGSA Social Media Policy.

In the event that your term as an elected member ends or you resign or are terminated from your position, you must immediately indicate that you are no longer associated with the AUGSA on any social media with which you had previously indicated your former association with the AUGSA.

Any individual/personal member accounts that make use of the AUGSA identity—whether by name, or by use of any official AUGSA logos or graphics—must either cease to use the AUGSA identity or be surrendered to AUGSA as per the Account Legacy section of this policy. For example, if you are the outgoing President of AUGSA and have a Twitter account with the user name @AUGSA_President, you must either change the user name (if you intend to continue using the account as a personal account) or provide the Executive Director with the login information for this account so that it can be used by the incoming President.

Official social media accounts representing AUGSA as a whole, such as the @AUGSA Twitter account managed by the Executive Director must be surrendered as per the Account Legacy section of this policy upon your resignation, termination, or the end of your elected term.

POLICY INTENT

This Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct is a statement of the ethical principles, values, and behaviors expected of staff and councilors of AUGSA. The Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility is intended to assist staff and council members to identify ethical issues that may occur during their employment or duties relating to AUGSA. This policy does not eliminate or substitute the rights and obligations of staff and council members under common law or legislation.

POLICY Definitions:

- Conflict of Interest: A conflict of interest is a situation in which the personal interests of a council member will benefit or be perceived to benefit because of the council member's exercise of council duties.
- Bias: Describes a circumstance or personal belief that may affect a council member's views on a group, person or idea. Biases are not considered conflicts of interest but should be understood as an inherent influence on the decision-making processes of all council members.

Significant biases should be declared for information purposes.

AUGSA council members and staff who have knowledge of a fact that, in their opinion, may constitute a violation of the Code of Ethics and Professional Responsibility, shall report it to the AUGSA executive committee, unless the issue involves a member of the executive committee, in which case it may be reported to the remaining executive council members and the executive director.
- Q. Necessary steps will be taken to maintain confidentiality of any council member or staff member reporting an issue.
- R. No sanctions will be taken against a council member or staff member who has reported an issue in good faith.
